A Nomination.

Washington, March 15.—The following nomination was sent to the senate by the president today:

Robert Woods Bliss, of New York and St. Louis, to be third assistant secretary of state.

Loan Problems.

Washington, March 15.—The problem of the foreign loans of the United States will be placed in the hands of Elliott Wadsworth, newly appointed assistant secretary of the treasury, Secretary Mellon announced today. Secretary Mellon announced that Nicholas Kelley, assistant secretary during the last administration, has agreed to continue in office for a short time in order to familiarize Mr. Wadsworth with his new duties. Secretary Mellon did not disclose the policy with regard to foreign loans which Wadsworth will be instructed to follow. Assistant Secretary Gilbert will continue in charge of fiscal affairs.

A Discussion.

Washington, March 15.—For the first time since it came into being, the Harding cabinet, today, got down to a discussion of policies. For more than two hours, President Harding discussed with members of his official family, including the vice president, the policies which will guide the nation in both foreign and domestic fields for the next four years.

One of the propositions considered was the advisability of creating a "war liquidating commission," which would undertake many phases of the war reconstruction work, thus leaving the cabinet officers free to run their own departments and affairs, unhampered by the perplexities of many problems left in the wake of war.

Immediately after the cabinet meeting adjourned, the president received newspaper correspondents and outlined generally to them the scope of the work discussed.

Plans Approved.

Washington, March 15.—President Harding, today, approved the plans for the conference between Secretary of Labor Davis and representatives of the packers and the packer employes, in an effort to adjust labor troubles in that industry. The president approved the plan of having Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Hoover participate in the negotiations.

Secretary Davis said the date for the conference has been tentatively set for March 21, but that it may be held earlier if the representatives of the employes can be here before Friday of this week.

Situation Normal.

Chicago, March 15.—Employes of Armour & Company are electing representatives, today, to form an industrial democracy in which workers and employers would have equal representation and which would settle all questions of working conditions, wages and hours in the Armour plants.

The representatives elected today will form a temporary board which will work out permanent plans. The outline of the proposed plan as given out by Armour & Company said that when the representatives of employer and employe could not agree on any matter, the question would be referred to an arbitrator.

The labor situation in the packing industry was declared by employers and employes to be "normal and satisfactory." "The men have returned to work pending the strike vote and there were no runaway strikers," said a union leader.

Coming Murder Trial.

Norwalk, March 15.—Ralph Clawson will face trial Thursday on the charge of killing Burt Culp, a Cleveland motorman. Clawson pleads self-defense. The killing occurred at Clawson's home, near Fitchville, last fall.

Will Not Quit German Empire, Says Dr. Hein.

TROUBLES PASS THE DANGER POINT

Bavaria Not Anxious To Do Favors for France.

Dr. Walter Simons Finds It Possible for the Reichstag To Refuse To Disband the Bavarian Security Police.

Berlin, March 15.—"Under no condition will Bavaria secede from the German empire," it was declared today by Dr. Hein, Bavarian leader in the Reichstag. "Bavaria will not do that favor for France."

The threatened clash in the Reichstag over the law dissolving the Einwohnerwehr, the Bavarian security police, has temporarily passed the danger point, as the measure has been referred to a committee for amendments.

Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, is giving an opinion upon the bill, said that the allies' ultimatum demanding that the Einwohnerwehr be dissolved by March 15, was no longer operative because of the indemnity penalties.

Further Occupation.

Dusseldorf, March 15.—The town of Haborn, five miles northeast of Ruhrort, was included in the area of Germany under occupation by the allies, in an order issued yesterday, by the entente military authorities here.

A state of siege has been proclaimed there and all arms, including hunting pieces and sabres must be turned over by tonight. Former German army officers must register before tonight.

A meeting of Independent Socialists was held here yesterday to protest against the allied measures and especially against the infliction of the penalties.

The French Socialists, Leon Jouhaux, Pierre Renaudel and M. Grumbach, addressed the meeting. In their speeches, however, they avoided reference to present events, proclaiming the importance of a union of the proletariat of all nations.

Protest Sent.

Berlin, March 15.—The government has addressed a note to the secretariat of the league of nations, protesting against the penalties being enfrced by the entente for Germany's non-fulfillment of her reparations obligations.

DECISION HITS OHIO BROKERS

Forbidden To Use the Term, "Investment Bankers."

SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISION

Cleveland Company Subject of a Test Suit.

Stark County Commissioners Lose in a Fight To Enforce the Terms of a Franchise Given Traction Company.

Columbus, March 15.—Brokers in Ohio must not use the term, "investment bankers," according to a decision announced today by the state supreme court.

The supreme judge, sustaining the judgment of the Cuyahoga county appellate court, held that former State Banking Superintendent Pontius was correct in his ruling ordering Otis & Company, Cleveland, to discontinue use of the words, "investment bankers" on letter heads and stationery.

Pontius held that such use constituted a violation of the state banking code, which prohibits the use of the words "bank," "banker," "banking," or "trust" by any person, firm or corporation not doing a deposit business, nor subject to regulation by the state banking department.

Richard Inglis, member of the firm of Otis & Company, sought to enjoin the company from discontinuing the use of the word "bankers," claiming such discontinuance would entail a loss to the partnership, the business of which had been developed by reason of the use of the words "investment bankers."

Inglis won in the Cuyahoga county common pleas court, but the judgment was reversed by the appellate court.

Commissioners Lose

Columbus, March 15.—The state supreme court, today, turned down the appeal of the Stark county commissioners on the ruling of the state ultities commission, which found that the traction company fares between Canton and Massillon are reasonable, just and not discriminatory.

The county commissioners had sought to require the traction company to charge the rate specified in a franchise granted by the county commissioners, in December, 1919, the Navarre franchise, of June, 1919 and village ordinance and the rate fixed by schedule for points west of Navarre.

AKRON MAN BEATEN AND ROBBED BY THUGS

Akron, March 15.—Beaten into semi-insensibility after shots fired by thugs failed to find their mask, Gus. T. Crarnediscar was robbed of money and jewelry valued at $2,000, by two men who escaped.

The attempted murder and robbery occured, this morning, in the rear yard of the man's home.

Crarnediscar had driven his car into the yard, preparatory to leaving it for the night, when two white men stepped from a place of concealment. Two shots were fired at him, but both went wild. Before he could summon help or move to escape, he was assaulted by the gunmen, who beat him until he was almost unconscious.

UNIFORM RULE TAX MEASURES

To Reach Vote in Ohio House Tomorrow Afternoon.

MANY BILLS BEFORE BUCKEYE SOLONS

Some Are To Promote Enforcement of Prohibition Act. School Appropriation.

Columbus, March 15.—The house, this afternoon, is scheduled to vote on the question of passing the Gordon bill, giving justices of the peace throughout a county jurisdiction over cases originating in the municipalities, under the Crabbe prohibition act.

The house also is expected to vote this afternoon on the Robison bill giving prohibition agents the right to seize automobiles and other vehicles used in transporting liquors illegally and the McCoy bill, which seeks to prohibit exhibitions of motion pictures containing scenes of crime.

A number of uniform rule tax bills, intended to place on the tax duplicate property now concealed, are scheduled to reach a vote in the house, tomorrow afternoon. These bills were reported out unfavorably by the house taxation committee.

F. A. Stengel, Marion, president of the State Association of Optometrists, in a letter to Governor Davis, announced that optometrists throughout Ohio are supporting the Dunn bill, providing for reorganization of state departments.

The house finance committee has reported out the biennial appropriation measure, providing for appropriations totaling $20,814,622, to meet the cost of operating the state government during the two years beginning July 1, next. This is the biggest appropriation in the history of the state. The biennial appropriation bill, two years ago, aggregated $51,000,000.

School Bills.

Representative Carpenter, chairman of the finance committee, who presented the measure, explained that the common school and highway funds are chiefly responsible for the increase which, when taken into account, he said, places the total appropriations in the pending bill at approximately what it was to years ago.

The 1.8 mills state levy contained in the school revenue law, passed a year ago, is held responsible for the school appropriation, $36,500,000. A $4,000,000 increase in the highway improvement appropriation is attributed to the increase in the state road levy to .5, from .3 of a mill last year. [illegible]

FISHING SEASON IS OPENED TODAY

Lorain, March 15.—Fishing season along the south shore of Lake Erie opened meagerly, today, due to fishermen at Lorain, Cleveland, Sandusky, Erie, Vermilion and Huron refusing to accept the 1910 rates, which were twenty per cent. lower than last year's rates. A compromise cut of ten per cent. has been accepted at one or two of the fishing ports.

ANTI-DUMPING ACT PROPOSED

Will Be Rushed Through Congress in Special Session.

SCHEME TO MEET FOREIGN COMPETITION

Special Taxation of Foreign Goods Offered Below Cost of American Products.

Washington, March 15.—Anti-dumping legislation to protect American industries from European competition will be rushed through at the special sesion of congress, under a decision reached at a conference of Republican members of the senate finance committees with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Whether tariff or internal tax revision shall be accorded second place on the fiscal program was left for final determination at a conference with Chairman Penrose of the senate committee and Chairman Fordney of the house committee plan to hold with President Harding. The final program, Penrose said, probably will be announced after this conference.

The majority of committee members attending the conference with Mr. Mellon were said to favor giving right of way to tarriff revision legislation. Agreement, it was said, was unanimous against attempting to enact any temporary stop-gap tariff bill, the feeling being that any tariff legislation enacted should be of a permanent nature.

The soldier bonus bill, a [illegible] issue, is to be a part of the Republican fiscal program, [illegible] announced. Financial requirements of the government for adjustment of compensation to former service men were included in the estimates considered at the conference, and at the close of the meeting Senator Penrose predicted that the bonus bill would be passed at an early date.

Members of the two committees, in agreeing to give preference to an anti-dumping bill, also decided to attempt enactment of legislation providing for American valuation of imports. [illegible]

GREECE PLANS BIG OFFENSIVE

Will Drive Against Nationalists in Turkey.

FORCES LINING UP ON SMYRNA FRONT

Heavy Reinforcements and Guns Are Moving.

Finnish Government Gets an Ultimatum from Russ Bolsheviki—Warned Against Any Dealing with the Rebels.

London, March 15.—The Greek army on the Smyrna front in Turkey is preparing for a big offensive against the Turkish Nationalists, according to official advices received by the foregin office today.

The Greeks are bringing up heavy reinforcements and guns to the Eskichair sector.

An Ultimatum.

London, March 15.—A virtual ultimatum from the Bolsheviki was received by the Finnish government. The Finns were warned not to communicate with Kronstadt, stronghold of the Russian rebels.

Reports told of increasing agitation against the soviet government, with important defections in southern Russia and Siberia. Oranienbaum, a port west of Petrograd, was said to have capitulated to the rebels after two days of hard fighting, in which the red casualties reached 400 dead and 1,300 wounded. The town itself was destroyed largely by the heavy firing on both sides. Sailors who landed there were enroute to Petrograd, their progress covered by an artillery barrage from Kronstadt.

Tomboff, in southern Russia, east of the soviet commissars. Indirect word from Harbin said red soldiers were deserting their colors and flocking to the revolutionary standard. Omsk and Krasnoiarsk were counter centers of the movement.

A Blockade.

London, March 15.—Leon Trotzky, the Russian soviet war minister, according to advices received here, has decided to blockade Kronstadt, despite the fact that this will entail great suffering to the 8,000 women and children in the town. The reason for Trotzky's unwillingness to bombard the town is the presence of warship Petropavlosk, which he is anxious to retain intact, the advices said.

Seaport Occupied.

Constantinople, March 15.—The seaport of Poti, Georgia, on the Black sea, north of Batum, has been occupied by the Bolsheviki, says a dispatch received here yesterday. The retiring Georgians burned the coal sheds and left the port on steamers in a severe storm.

The Turkish nationalities, who recently occupied Batum, are said to be disarming all incoming Georgian soldiers, and the town of Kutais, fifty miles east of Poti, has been looted. Georgian civilians have been executed in Tiflis by the Bolsheviki occupying the city in revenge for the execution of the bolshevik mission there by the Georgians before the latter retired.

The Princess Ratieff, sister-in-law of Norman Whitehouse, of New York, who was sent to the Caucasus on a mission for the American peace delegation in Paris in 1919, has arrived here aboard the American destroyer, Whipple.

TWO WOMEN ARE THE PRINCIPALS IN COURT

One Is Prisoner and the Other Judge in Cleveland Case.

Cleveland, March 15.—Two women are the principal characters in a murder trial, in common pleas court here, today. One, Judge Florence E. Allen, sits as the judge on the bench and the other's life will be the forfeit if the state proves its case.

Selection of a judge to try Mrs. Maude Miller for the murder of her husband is expected to be completed late today. Her attorneys are trying to get as many women as possible on the jury. The indictment charges murder in the first degree. Mrs. Miller admits shooting her husband but declares that she thought he was a burglar trying to force an entrance.

They had quarreled earlier in the evening.

The mother of the defendant sits at her side in court.

AN ALLIED NOTE DRAFTED TODAY

Answer to Germany Touching Allied Seizure.

CLAIMED MOVEMENT IS FULLY JUSTIFIED

Germans Fail To Meet Their Treaty Obligations.

Less Than Half of 20,000,000 Gold Marks Due from Germany Have Been Paid. Treaty Is Not Nullified.

Paris, March 15.—The reparations commission, today, drafted a note to Germany declaring that the allied military and economic penalties were legally justified under the treaty of Versailles, because Germany had not paid the amount of money pledged under that covenant.

This allied note was designed as an answer to the German contention that the advance of the allied troops on the Rhine nullified the peace treaty.

The document was drafted at a meeting of the reparations committee, this morning. [illegible]

MORE REVENUE IS DEMANDED

As Income Tax Checks Reach Federal Treasury.

NO RELIEF FROM TAX BURDEN NEAR

Income Tax Law Will Not Be Modified Soon.

Cries for Greater Exemptions Will Fall on Deaf Ears Until Expenses of Government Can Be Further Reduced.

Washington, March 15.—The groans that are going up all over the country, today, as belated income tax checks are dropped into the federal treasury, are penetrating Washington. But more penetrating still is the insistent demand for more revenue to meet the burden of governmental expenditure.

The taxation-and-tariff legislative experts who are now engaged in trying to whip into shape a program of revenue legislation for the new sixty-seventh congress, which meets April 11, offer little hope that the income tax law will be materially modified under the new regime. The income-tax law is working smoothly—much more smoothly than some of the other features of the present tax law—and they plan to leave well enough alone. Attention, instead, will be paid to the correction of the excess-profits and surtaxes.

As for the small-salaried man, he can look forward to paying the government four per cent. on his income for some time yet, according to the congressional tax framers. It is the belief of framers of legislation, as well as treasury experts, that neither will the percentage of taxation be decreased or the individual exemptions be raised by the new congress.

Representative Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan, chairman of the ways-and-means committee, which has the forthcoming legislation in charge, said today he could see no relief coming for the small-salaried man in 1922.

"We do not now plan to decrease the percentage of tax nor increase the exemption figures," he said. "I do not think that the recent condition of the treasury will warrant any reduction in the income-tax percentages on incomes of less than $5,000 anyway."

Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, also a member of the ways-and-means committee and rated as one of the tax experts of the house, expressed similar convictions.

"It appears," he said, "that the returns from corporations and persons with large incomes, last year, have fallen materially. It is the opinion of the committee that diversion of large sums into non-taxable securities is largely responsible for this. Reduction of surtaxes and excess-profits taxes or their elimination will divert money from non-taxable securities into taxable occupation, encouraging building and working generally for the betterment of all concerned. ECONOMY "BIT" IN WHITE HOUSE

Mrs. Harding Saves Uncle Sam at Least $10,000.

NEW FURNITURE FOR WHITE HOUSE REFUSED

First Lady of Land Decides To Use Her Old Household Effects—A New Policy.

Washington March 15. The new mistress of the White House has made a decision which will save an economically-bent government at least $10,000. Mrs. Harding has made up her mind it is her duty to get along with the old furniture of the private apartments, supplementing it with belongings brought from her former home in Wyoming avenue and from the house in Marion.

Saving should begin at home, Mrs. Harding thinks, and it is the place of the "First Lady of the Land," she believes, to set an example in thrift to other housewives. Holding that opinion, she has refused to take advantage of the willingness of the appropriations committee of the house to be more than liberal in providing for the refurnishing and upkeep of the president's home.

Much of the furniture and belongings that made the private apartments of the White House habitable in the last eight years were the personal property of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and were moved to Mr. Wilson's new home in S street before March 4. For the last ten days, therefore, she has been fitting into the rooms articles of furniture and decorations that were dear to her and to the president for many years association, and the task facing her at a time when almost every minute of her time was taken up by social duties incident to the establishment of a new administration, engaged her time and energies.

Two Years of Economy.

For a year or two Mrs. Harding purposes to do with what she has; for as long as the necessity for strict economy in all forms of government expenditure exists and until government and people get started along the retrenchment road. Mrs. Harding has definite ideas about the wisdom of maintaining the dignity and attractiveness of the White House, for she holds that it is a great national institution as well as the home of the chief executive and his family, and that the people expect that it shall be maintained without stint or niggardliness.

Mrs. Harding is anxious to bring back of the White House the atmosphere of hospitality and welcome that once characterized it, that is part of the White House tradition. Her ideas include regular Saturday morning receptions for official society, so persons more or less importantly placed in the government can get better acquainted with each other; teas to be held two or three times a week for personal friends of herself and the president; garden parties, some of which will be held for wounded soldiers and ex-service men generally, and Saturday afternoon concerts on the lawn by the Marine band. The custom of giving dinners, both formal and informal, will be revived, and Mrs. Harding is thinking also of having regular musicales. She is desirous of bringing a real neighborly spirit to the stately building, and the open door policy will be maintained.

New Policy Startles

The open door policy has been almost startling to Washington, long familiar with cloister like seclusion at the White House. The grounds are constantly filled with throngs of sightseers. There is a stir of motor cars in the driveways. Children play about the lawns. It makes a lively picture with a very human touch. Two weeks from yesterday the President and Mrs. Harding will preside at the children's egg rolling party and that gathering should be worth seeing.

There is always a crowd around the north entrance of the White House, made up of people who hope to catch a glimpse of the President or Mrs. Harding, and who display the keenest curiosity as the White House automobiles roll to and from the porte cochere. At such times as the president or Mrs. Harding, or both appear there is invariably a clatter of handclapping and usually cheering.

KENTUCKY GOVERNOR REMOVES A JAILER

Prison Keeper Blamed for Action in Versailles Lynching.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—Governor Edwin P. Morrow took official notice of the lynching of Richard James, negro, at Versailles, Ky., by removing from office Jailer John H. Edgers. The governor's action was embodied in a proclamation based on a 1920 legislative act which provides if a prisoner is taken from the custody of an officer it shall be prima facie evidence of his failure to perform his duty. Edgers' removal from office is the first under the act. If circumstances justify the action, he will also oust the sheriff of the county. He also announced a reward of $500 for the arrest of each man who took part in the lynching.

The negro was charged with the murder of Ben T. Rogers and Homer Nave, liquor law enforcement officers. A jury disagreed, all but one favoring a murder verdict, Saturday, as to his guilt.

In urging this action, the governor said he has not changed his belief as to the desirability of a separate department of examination.

He said he was influenced in his recommendation in this matter by the wide misapprehension concerning the purpose of the proposed department and by the fact that the various boards are self-sustaining.

$7,800 QUOTA RAISED FOR STARVING WAIFS

"Give Us Assistance or We Die," Their Cry.

IS NOT HEARD IN VAIN, COUNTY CHAIRMAN SAYS

A. C. Edmondson Issues Statement of Gratitude for County Organization Today.

Marion county has raised its quota of $7,800 for the relief of the starving children of Europe. Announcement that the quota has been raised was made today by A. C. Edmondson, county chairman, who issued a statement of gratitude for the county organization.

Marion's quota will go to the national organization which is carrying on a campaign for $33,000,000 for the relief of the 3,500,000 starving children of Europe. The national organization has as its head Herbert Hoover and it has been figured that $10 will be sufficient to provide each of the starving children with food, clothing and medical attention until the next European harvest. This is made possible through the distribution of the supplies through agencies already organized in the countries affected, so that there is no overhead charge.

Edmondson's Statement.

Mr. Edmondson's statement reads: "With grateful hearts we return thanks to the Almighty and the Giver of all that Marion county did her part in raising $7,800, her quota of the $33,000,000 needed to save the 3,500,000 innocent children and helpless waifs of the war. Their cry came from over the deep blue sea, 'give us assistance or we die,' and they did not cry in vain.

"Especially can we be grateful to our famous townsman and our president for heading the list with the liberal donation of $2,500, and a few other very generous men and women; to the work of the ministers and their congregations; to our daily papers who were so generous with their publicity; to the Red Cross, thereby saving us the necessity of calling out the war board again and asking the people over the county for another contribution, they having been solicited so often and giving so liberally the past few years."

BADLY WOUNDED IN MYSTERIOUS WAY

Doctor Loses Hand When Package Explodes.

Skowhegan, Maine, March 15.—Dr. John L. Pepper, veteran of the World war, was brought to a hospital here, today badly wounded when a mysterious package received in the mail at Madison, Maine, postoffice, exploded, blowing off one of the physician's hands and lacerating his face and upper body frightfully.

Two brother physicians rushed Dr. Pepper to the hospital where it is said that he is on the danger list.

Dr. Pepper served during the war as a lieutenant in the medical corps of the United States army, having been stationed at a camp in Ohio. He is a nephew of the late Rev. Dr. G. A. B. Pepper, former president of Colby college and was graduated from that college, in 1890.

IDES OF MARCH HAVE NO TERRORS FOR MARIONITES

Who Could Ask for a Prettier Day Than Today?

The ides of March remember.—Shakespeare.

It was a soothsayer who told Caesar many years ago, "Beware of the ides of March."

The ides of March back in those old Roman days fell first on March 15. But what has that to do with the weather? And this is March 15, too.

The Washington weather bureau man has been trying to throw a scare into everybody about March. Didn't he last Saturday say that Sunday was going to be rather raw and there would be snow on Monday and today and bad weather generally throughout the week? Yes, he did! Now he's backing up. Listen to what he says now! Here it is, not in his own words, but conveying the same meaning:

"The cold wave sweeping down from the great Northwest [why is it that the weather man always says great Northwest?] got sidetracked north of the Great lakes region, the body of water changing the current."

That may be a good excuse for the weather man, and he may think he is getting away with it, but he can't fool Marionites on the 1921 brand of March weather.

With the birds chirping and the trees beginning to bud, and some of the wild flowers peeking from their beds, and with some people putting in gardens, and all the signs that any one would want that spring is here ahead of schedule, where is there a man, woman or child with sense of gratitude so dead that will not say: "March, thou are a jewel?"

Wasn't this a pretty April day? The Star's star weather observing reporter will tell the world that it was.

She came to Ohio with her parents in 1834, stopping in Marion county with an uncle, and her mother died two weeks after arriving here. Four years later her father remarried and they moved to Little Sandusky.

December 29, 1852, she was married to Thomas Munday, of Radnor, and they located in Marion. They had two sons, Clarence, who died when six years of age, and Rodolphus, who now lives in Ruth, Nevada, and one daughter, Mrs. Frank V. Cheney, of this city.

E. church. She had been a member of the Methodist church since childhood and until recently was actively connected with the different organizations of the church, also the W. C. T. U. and Relief corps.

Aside from her children, Mrs. Munday leaves five grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, two half-sisters, Mrs. S. R. Long, of Delaware, and Mrs. P. H. Jayne, of Des Moines, Iowa.

DEATH OF BABY UPSETS PLANS

Murder Trial at Williamson Is Delayed.

COURT ORDERS SERIES OF NIGHT SESSIONS

Each Side Given Fifteen Hours in Which To Argue Case Before Jury.

Williamson, West Virginia, March 15.—The death of a baby of one of the defendants has seriously upset plans for court and counsel in the trigger trial. Today's morning and afternoon sessions had to be abandoned because the child of Art Williams, one of the seventeen accused men, is to be buried at Matewan, this afternoon. As a result, Judge Robert D. Bailey announced a night session would be held, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Judge Bailey and attorneys on both sides are determined to bring the trial to a finish this week, and night sessions will be held, therefore, until the case goes to the jury.

It was further announced by Judge Bailey that each side will be given fifteen hours in which to make its pleas. The state had originally asked for three days for its arguments. Three lawyers for the prosecution, Captain S. B. Avis, ex-Judge Joseph Sanders and John Marcum, are to address the jury and each had counted on having a full day.

Counsel for the defense, on the other hand, stated that five or six hours would be sufficient for it to present its arguments. J. J. Coniff and Harold W. Houston will each speak about three hours. If the state finishes with the rebuttal of witnesses tonight or tomorrow morning, the case will go to the jury probably late Thursday.

FINE RECORD SET BY EXALTED RULER JUSTICE

Will Have Initiated More Candidates Than Any Predecessor.

When Brother C. L. Justice retires from the exalted ruler's chair of No. 32 on the evening of April 7, his administration will have established a record without precedent in the history of the local lodge, says the current issue of the Elks' Bulletin. Up to March 3 there had been exactly 205 members added to the lodge by way of initiation during his administration, three by transfer demit, and five by reinstatement, making a total of 213. The lodge lost during the same period, seven by death, and five by transfer demit, leaving a total net gain of 201.

To this number must be added the class of something like fifty to be initiated on the evening of March 10—Exalted Rulers' night—and such others as may be initiated on one of the other meeting dates which will intervene before the installation of the newly-elected officers on the evening of April 7, thus bringing the total net additions. Beyond a doubt over the 250 mark—truly a splendid record.

Brother Justice's administration, however, had the prestige of the attendance of a president-elect of the United States on an evening during its term, and helped largely to secure the large class of 134 to secure initiated on the afternoon and evening of January 23, which was called the Harding class in honor of the distinguished guest of the evening. This class included some of the most prominent and influential men of the city. Then while the "iron was hot," as the saying goes, the administration had the foresight to stage a great follow-up class for exalted rulers' night, and the great record was made.

Other exalted rulers may scarcely expect to have such an incentive toward the securing of large classes as fell to the lot of Brother Justice and his fellow chair officers, but the credit is none the less theirs for when the opportunity came along they had the foresight and acumen to grasp it.

THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

Daily Proverb—"Rather a man without money than money without a man."

Maybe that Iowa judge merely meant that a husband is the theoretical head of the house.

There's never any telling. The medicinal brew may come to be known as Palmer beer.

Wonder where the prohibition commissioner ever got the idea that Billy Sunday wants his assistance in saving Cincinnati.

This old life of ours seems to be just one long-drawn-out struggle. No sooner do we get one installment of the income tax paid than we have to buckle down to work to raise the wherewithal to pay the next.

If these ovations to Mr. Daniels continue much longer, Josephus may become suspicious that the people are rejoicing that he is out.

It's just a bit hard to get a line on the mental workings of some people. Here's Mr. Daniels taking away with him the office chair he used in Washington to remind him of the days when he was secretary of the navy.

Cleveland must be pretty wet yet. We read that a Forest City man saw a seven-foot snake in the street up there, a day or two ago.

The Chicago News says an investigation up there developed the fact that the Windy City restaurants have been making 800 per cent. profit. If that is all they have made, it goes to show that the Chicago people aren't overly strong for pie.

We learn from the intensely interesting series of articles being run in the Saturday Evening Post that Clemenceau wore gloves while sitting in the Versailles peace conference, but it is manifest that Mr. Lansing didn't when writing about it.

The self-constituted reformers are enthusiastic in their drive against the cigaret, but old General Apathy appears to be in command so far as the saving of the tea and coffee drunkards is concerned.

It's just a bit hard to realize how any man can figure out that he's a good American when he devotes more time to propaganda for the welfare—real or imaginary—of some other people than he give to boosting for that of his own.

THE SITUATION IN RUSSIA.

Everybody who has not entirely lost faith in the good sense of humanity believes that the time will come when the "Red" tyrants will be swept out of Russia. Who knows but what the time has come? Nevertheless, the world has been deceived so many times by anti-Bolshevist movements in Russia that it is inclined to be skeptical.

The people of Russia who are not direct beneficiaries of the soviet system will some day rise in revolt against Bolshevism. The masses will not always submit to being robbed and starved in order to maintain a regime that does not know the first principles of successful or democratic government.

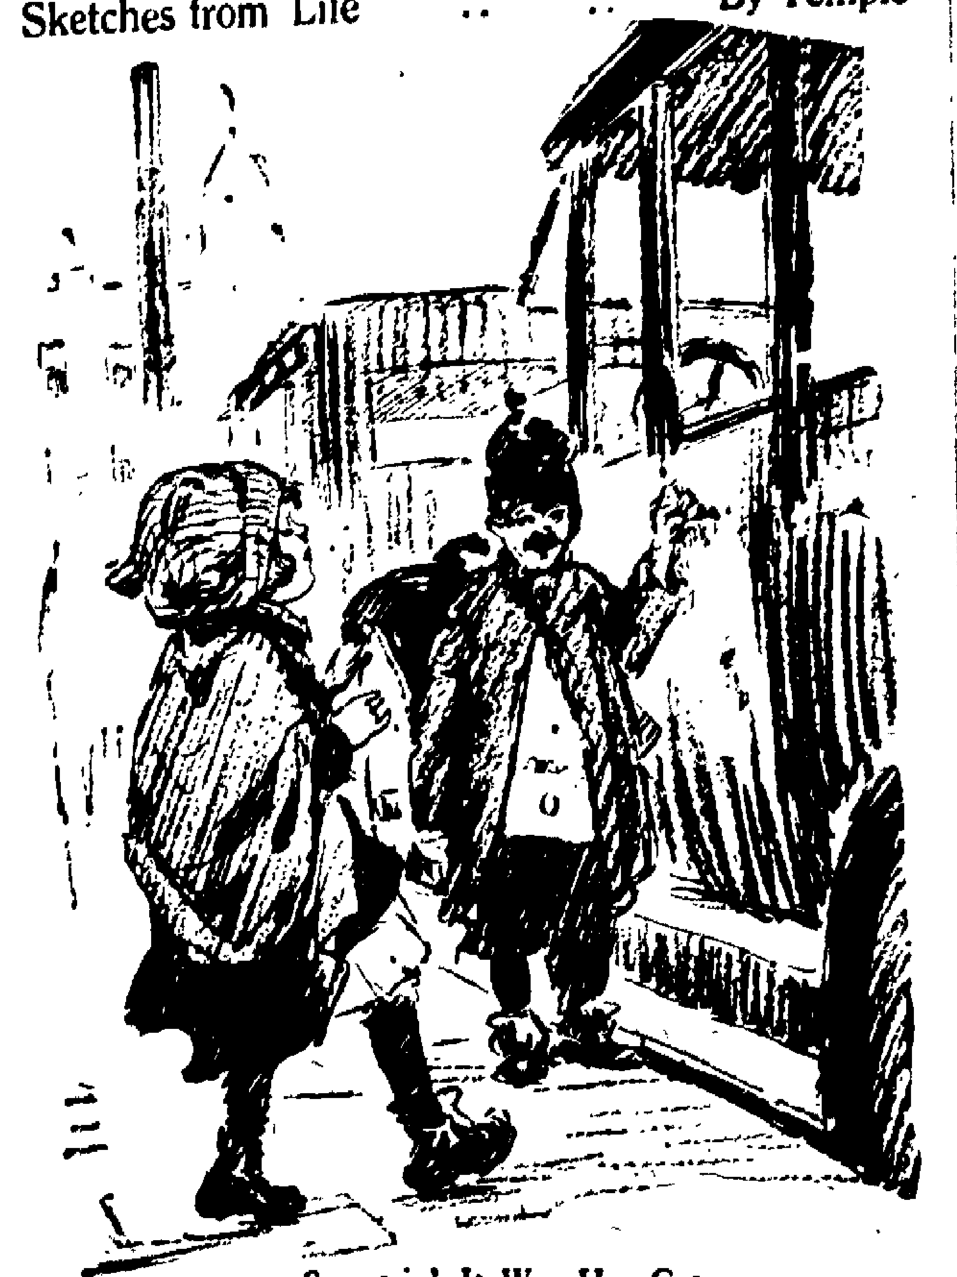
The revolt against "Red" rule in the Petrograd district may be an indication of a condition of mind that may spread throughout Russia, resulting in the overthrow of the soviet tyrants, and it may be only a sporadic protest that will be suppressed by the military power still wielded by Lenine and Trotsky.

The unscrupulous methods which the soviet government has adopted to keep men in the army appeals to the lowest motives of the Russians. They are assured of plenty to eat if they are willing to support the government against their fellowmen. It is doubtful if patriotism or loyalty enters into the thought of many of the Bolshevist soldiers.

There is one encouraging feature in the news now coming out of Russia—the Russians who are leading the movement against the "Reds" are not men of the old regime, most of whom were not trusted by the people, but it appears to be a protest of the proletarians themselves, who are the greatest sufferers under the soviet rule.

The world will hope that a successful revolution against the soviet czars has begun.

Sketches from Life ∴ By Temple



Supposin' It Was Her Car

FOR THE GOOD OF ALL.

"The vice president of the United States shall be president of the senate." And that is the sole duty placed upon that official by the constitution. That being the fact, it was peculiarly fitting that Vice President Coolidge should confine his inaugural address to a reference to the senate and the part it plays in our form of government. "To it is intrusted the duty of review," said he in emphasizing the powers possessed by the senate and not exercised by the house or any other branch of the government, "that to negotiation there may be added ratification and to appointment, approval. But its greatest function of all, too little mentioned and too little understood, whether exercised in legislating or reviewing, is the preservation of liberty."

Mr. Coolidge declared it to be the special function of the senate to protect the rights of the minority, and that the great object for senators and himself to seek in the future is to continue to make the senate chamber the "citadel of liberty."

Therein the vice president touched upon much the same vein of thought followed by President Harding in his inaugural. It is the consecration of the government in all its branches to the rights of the minority that feature the advent of the new administration. Too long have those rights been trampled by public officials who gave little thought to the people, but ruthlessly overrode considerations of public welfare.

Mr. Coolidge's dedication of himself and the senate to continued service to the people is as one with the pledge of President Harding that all the agencies of government shall function "purely as an expression of the popular will."

It would prove interesting to know what part, if any, of the wage loss of $12,000,000 sustained by the cigar makers of Tampa who lost out in their strike was borne by the labor leaders who engineered it.

The more arduous the job grows, the more inclined Lenine seems to give Trotzky wider scope in handling it. Still, Lenine never was one who went about looking for any job that had the earmarks of being arduous, so we suppose we have to hand it to him for being consistent.

The nation does not need more organizations, but a better functioning of the worth-while ones and abandonment of the unnecessary ones.—Canton News.

And what an abandonment that would be!

TAKING GRAVE CHANCES.

Reports of deaths resulting from indulgence in the various forms of moonshine liquor, which come from many sections of the United States, simply emphasize the danger in using any of the concoctions that are sold illegally, even under a government stamp. Ten persons died in one week in the Pittsburgh district of acute alcoholism, and analyses of some of the intoxicants used disclosed the fact that ether, one of the most dangerous drugs, was being used to give "kick" to an otherwise innocent beverage. Ether appears to be taking the place of wood alcohol as a stimulator.

The counterfeiting of internal revenue stamps used on bonded liquors has become so frequent that the purchaser of liquor reputed to be genuine has no assurance that he can use it in safety. The person who buys liquor in violation of the prohibition law flatters himself that he can not be deceived by the vendor, but hundreds of instances in recent weeks would seem to demonstrate the fact that there is no safety in purchasing anything which may be offered by dealers in illicit liquor, even though it bear the usual guarantee of a government stamp.

Only exercise of common sense will save men from the danger of becoming victims of the vicious drinks that are being sold by bootleggers as "bottled in bond" liquor or something just as safe. When men realize that they are trifling with death in patronizing the illicit liquor seller he will go out of business.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Ball Naylor]

THE GOAT.

The financier's the bull or bear,
The profiteer's the shoat;
The investor is the helpless lamb,
The consumer—he's the goat!

"Is Another Sugar Raid Planned?"

This is the disturbing headline I find staring me in the face, from the editorial page of the Ohio State Journal.

And then the editorial goes on to state:

Sugar prices are being advanced. The retail figure has been marked up in a number of places. Information that appears to be in support of the theory of higher prices to come is being distributed. Apparently it is propaganda put out preliminary to an increase in price. From financial sources, not remote from the sugar centers, comes the positive statement that in coming months there will be a sharp advance in the price and higher levels will be reached and maintained.

It looks as if another raid on the American sugar bowl were planned, as if another extortion would be tried on the public.

The consumer's the goat!

The poor, dumb, desperate, helpless goat!

He gets his.

But he gets it in the neck.

The Interstate Commerce commission decides that the railroads may exact higher passenger and freight rates—which possibly, nay, probably, is all right; the railroads need the money to extend their lines and improve their service.

But the consumer is the goat.

He has the advance in rates to pay

And will he get the benefit? Will his money go for the purpose for which it is ostensibly intended? I don't know; nobody knows, apparently. As I understand it, the railroad companies are not bound in any way to use this additional money to improve their service.

The state utilities commission grants the gas companies the right and privilege of raising their rates.

And the consumer is the goat.

He pays the additional price.

But does he get better service—additional gas supply?

No!

The utilities commission doesn't look after that matter.

This same commission lets the telephone companies boost their rates.

And the consumer again is the goat.

But does the commission compel the phone companies to render better service?

It does not.

And thus it goes.

And now sugar is to go up in price. Why? Is sugar scarce? No.

Is the cost of production higher? Not at all.

The consumer's the goat. He has horns; but he's not allowed to use them. Every commercial interest plucks and pulls his beard; and all he can do is to baa and stamp his rage.

One of these fine days he'll go to butting; and when he does—well, he'll upset some conditions.

T. E. HUNTER AND A. H. MARKS NEW COUNCILMEN

[illegible] To Succeed Sells and Shelton, Resigned.

BENEDICT REAPPOINTED TO MAKE RECORD O K

Sells Appointed on Park Commission—Vacancy on Health Board Not Filled.

[illegible] three of the city's [illegible] boards were officially [illegible] the meeting of the city [illegible] Monday night, all of the [illegible] being present. The first [illegible] line was the apointment [illegible] A. Benedict as a member [illegible]. Mr. Benedict was [illegible] council last August to [illegible] caused by the resignation of W. G. Slack. At the time [illegible] member of the park commission and due to the ruling of the [illegible] general that a man who [illegible] council could not hold [illegible] public office or position, Mr. Benedict resigned from the park commission and was again appointed [illegible] the council to insure his appointment is legal.

The resignations of Pearl H. Sells and Bert J. Shelton were accepted [illegible] council, these to take effect at [illegible]. Mr. Sells, who is on his second term as a councilman, is superintendent of janitors of the schools, while Mr. Shelton, who is serving [illegible] first term, has been appointed deputy county treasurer and was elected county treasurer last November. Both have filled places on the ouncil with credit to themselves and with the interests of the citizens at heart. Their public positions required them to resign from the council to comply with the opinion rendered by the attorney general.

Their Successors

After the resignations were accepted council held a short caucus and on returning to open sesion, Thomas E. Hunter was apointed to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Sells. Before the appointment was officially made Mr. Hunter presented to Mayor T. E. Andrews his resignation as a member of the board of health. Mr. Hunter was appointed a member of the board for a term of four years from January 1, 1920, by Mayor Andrews. Mr. Hunter served two terms in the Ohio senate from Champaign county and came to Marion in 1906. Previous to being appointed on the board of health he served one term as township trustee.

A. H. Marks, of Pearl Street, employed on the wrecking crew of the Erie, was appointed to fill Mr. Shelton's place on the council. Mr. Marks, who is a staunch Republican opposed Councilman Emery Murphy, of the Third ward, for the nomination on the ticket at the November 1919 election.

Mayor T. E. Andrews announced the appointment of Pearl H. Sells as a member of the park commission to succeed O. A. Benedict, this duty and his holding the position as superintendent of janitors not conflicting with the opinion of the attorney general. The apointment of a member of the board of health to succeed Mr. Hunter will be made by the mayor later.

Four Electric Lights

A petition was presented asking that electric lights be installed as follows: One at the corner of Church street and Merchant avenue; one on Merchant avenue between Center and Church streets, and one on north Prospect street between Center and Mill streets. This was referred to the lights committee.

A petition for a four-foot walk on Polk street from Van Buren street to Fairground street and a petition for a sanitary sewer on Fies avenue, from Bennett street south to the Erie railroad, were referred to the proper committee.

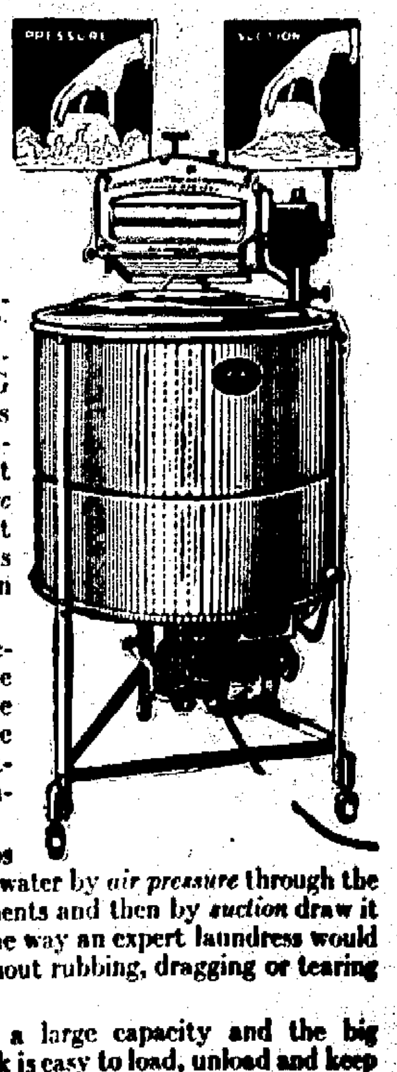
Time Has Proven That the "Easy" Is Best



Forty years' evolution of the "EASY" VACUUM ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE has proven that the principle upon which it works—air pressure and suction, most nearly approaches the work of human hands.

Thousands of housewives have tried the "EASY" and have found that it does the family washing better and almost without effort.

For the vacuum cups force the hot soapy water by air pressure through the meshes of the garments and then by suction draw it back again, the same way an expert laundress would wash by hand, without rubbing, dragging or tearing the clothes.

The "EASY" has a large capacity and the big polished copper tank is easy to load, unload and keep clean. Made of solid copper, brass, aluminum and enameled steel. It is rust proof.

The wringer starts, stops, reverses and swings to any desired position instantly

The "EASY" is anxious to do your next week's washing and prove that it is the best and most efficient washing machine you ever heard of. Phone for a demonstration today

BEYOND WORDS

The International Sunday School Lesson for March 20 is "Jesus on the Cross."—Matthew 27:33-50.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Recently I tried to re-read a novel that had greatly moved me in early youth, "The Story of an Untold Love." This time I found it thin and sentimental and mawkish. To-night I have been re-reading another story of untold love—untold because it surpasses words—and I am freshly gripped and awed and overwhelmed by the greatness of it.

For nearly 2,000 years the mightiest intellects of earth have pondered upon this story, and tried to compass its full import. Books by the myriad have been written upon it, without adequately interpreting it. More songs and hymns have had it for their theme than have dealt with all the other loves of all men and women. Addresses and lectures and sermons numbering millions and millions have attempted to set it forth. Thousands of lawyers have sought to analyze it. Painting and sculpture and music at their highest expression have tried to portray it. Yet today it remains, fresh and exhaustless, the story of an untellable love, surpassing the power of words; the loftiest and most important of all the subjects that engage the interest of humanity.

The story, of course, is the love of God for man as expressed in the death of Jesus Christ on the Cross, whereby all His life and ministry and teachings reached their climax.

More important, of course, than any comments upon the record is the inspired narrative itself. Matthew, a witness, tells the story thus, his Greek being rendered in the speech of our day by the scholarly Weymouth Version:

New Version of Greatest Drama.

"'What then,' said Pilate, 'shall I do with Jesus, the so-called Christ?'

"With one voice they shouted,

"'Let Him be crucified!'

"'Why, what crime has He committed?' asked Pilate. But they kept on furiously shouting.

"'Let Him be crucified!'

"So when he saw that he could gain nothing but that on the contrary there was a riot threatening, he called for water and washing his hands in sight of them all, saying,

"'I am not responsible for his murder: you must answer for it.'

"'His blood,' replied all the people, 'be on us and on our children!'

"Then he released Barabbas to them, but Jesus he ordered to be scourged, and gave Him up to be crucified.

"Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus into Preatorium, and called together the whole battalion to make sport of Him. Stripping off His garments, they put on Him a general's short crimson cloak. They twisted a wreath of thorny twigs and put it on His head, and they put a sceptre of cane in His right hand, and kneeling to Him they shouted in mockery,

"'Long live the King of the Jews!'

"Then they spat upon Him, and taking the cane they repeatedly struck Him on the head with it. At last, having finished their sport, they took off the cloak, clothed Him again in his own garments and led Him away for crucifixion.

"Going out they met a Cyrenaean named Simon; whom they compelled to carry His cross, and so they came to a place called Golgotha, which means 'Skull-ground.' Here they gave Him a mixture of wine and gall to drink, but having tasted it He refused to drink it. After crucifying Him, they divided His garments among them by lot, and sat down there on guard. Over His head they placed a written statement of the charge against Him:

"This is Jesus the King of the Jews."

"At the same time two robbers were crucified with Him, one at His right hand and the other at His left.

"And the passers-by reviled Him. They shook their heads at Him and said,

"'You who would pull down the Sanctuary and build a new one within three days, save yourself. If you are God's Son, come down from the cross.'

"In like manner the High Priests also, together with the Scribes and Elders, taunted Him.

"'He saved others,' they said, 'Himself He can not save! He is the King of Israel! Let Him now come down from the cross, and we will believe in Him. His trust is in God, let God deliver Him now, if He will have Him; for He said, "I am God's Son."'

"Insults of the same kind were heaped on Him even by the robbers who were being crucified with Him.

"Now from noon until three o'clock in the afternoon there was darkness over the whole land; but about three o'clock Jesus cried out in a loud voice,

"'Eli, Eli, lama sabachtani?' that is to say, 'My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?'—Ps. XXII, 1

"The man is calling for Elijah,' said some of the bystanders.

"One of them ran forthwith, and filling a sponge with sour wine put it on the end of a cane and offered it Him to drink; while the rest said,

"'Let us see whether Elijah is coming to deliver Him.'

"But Jesus uttered another loud cry and yielded up His spirit."

These Crosses in France.

How strong the hold that the central truths of life and religion take upon the common mind is startlingly revealed to the visitor to the battlefields of France. All the graves of the fallen are marked by crosses. One uniform orthodoxy covers them; they make the sign of the cross in death. French, German, British, American—all the soldiers who gave their lives in the great war now rest beneath the Calvary symbol. It was the deep conviction of the soldiers themselves that the Cross is their eternal hope. There were no infidels in the fighting line.

Even as the Seer of Patmos perceived the eternal principle of the crucifixin in "the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world" who was in the midst of the throne so mankind has sensed that sacrificed servants of duty are following, albeit afar off, the footsteps of Jesus. There is no denial of the need of the atonement, or of the unique vicariousness of the death of Christ, in all this reaching out of groping hands to touch in fellowship the pierced hand of the Redeemer.

Most poets have tuned their harps to the same theme. Frederic Lawrence Knowles sang,

"Our crosses are hewn from different trees,
But we all must have our Calvaries,
We may climb the height from a different side,
But we each go up to be crucified;
As we scale the steep, another may share
The dreadful load that our shoulders bear,
But the costliest sorrow is all our own—
For on the summit we bleed alone."

Over the greater part of Europe one finds wayside success. Eastern Christians maintain the emblem of Calvary with their lives, making it on their doorways and even tattooing it on their faces. In Japan, as in Moslem lands, the old faiths used to test the renunciation of Christians by asking them to trample or to spit upon the cross. This perception of the central place of the symbol and truth of the crucifixion in Christian life is well-nigh universal.

To disciples of all creeds the cross has embodied their loftiest spiritual thought. In the eleventh century Bernard of Clairvaux penned his deathless, "O Sacred Head once wounded!" Isaac Watts set myriads to singing:

"When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride."

A century later Sir John Bowring wrote,—

"In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime.

"When the woes of life o'ertake me,
Hopes deceive, and fears annoy,
Never shall the cross forsake me:
Lo! it glows with peace and joy."

A Crowded Stage.

The greatest story in the world, climaxing in the Cross, has only one Hero, but many incidental characters. The trial and death of Jesus, which began according to the forms of justice and ended in an exhibition of mob law, reveal all grades of human nature—for even in His Atonement the Savior was touched by the varied infirmities of men. How the characters troop across the stage set for creation's supreme drama on a gray hill outside of old Jerusalem's wall!

First there were the enemies of Jesus, cunning, resourceful, unscrupulous and resentful. Wounded ecclesiastical pride, aggrieved commercial power, branded wickedness in high places, had shrewdly plotted and contrived together until they had got this New Teacher into the hand of the Roman law.

Next was Pilate, the politician-governor, who was as just as his own fear, and ambition would let him be. He acquitted Jesus by Roman law and convicted Him by lynch law. For lack of common, courageous manhood, Pilate is eternally pilloried in the world's hall of infamy.

Then there was the throaty rabble, which shortly before had cried "Hosannah!" and now fiercely yelled, "Crucify Him!" In the presence of this volatile mob, tools of shrewd schemers in the background, who will say that always "Vox populi, vox Dei"?

True friends, mostly women, cluster near the cross, amid the black shadows that miraculously veiled the face of the sky. Judas had gone off to a suicide's grave, but faithful comrades remained near.

Last of all, as first of all, was the Majestic Prisoner, dignified amid torture and agony, and Captain of conditions even when nailed to the cross. His personality overtopped all else, even as His cross—the crowning touch of cruelty was that a Carpenter should die by the handiwork of His craft—overlooked the multitude. Literature and history have no parallel for this Figure.

We cannot speak of Him in any terms at our command. This was the supreme transaction and mystery of eternity. Somehow, on this hill of execution, God and man were reconciled by the shed blood of the Crucified Christ. His death secured man's life. It is the untellable love story of the ages.

"I have not much to give Thee, Lord,
For that great love which made Thee mine;
I have not much to give Thee, Lord
But all I have is Thine."

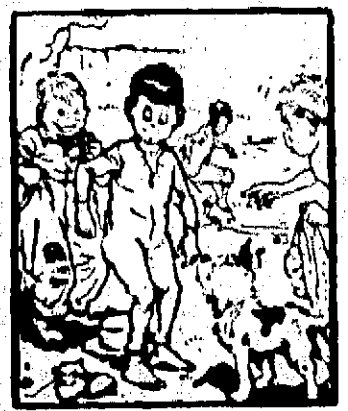
I will bet a munky's whissel that if it was stylish for grounups to wear short pants my father would make me wear long pants just to be mean. I would not care. Anyone that wants to be mean to me by making me wear long pants can begin as soon as they get ready. I bet if I would put on a pair of long pants and paste a couple of tossels off of the piano cover on my upper lip and go over to Younisses house and lean on her front gate she would holler at her mother to come and look at the strange man. And when I would give my mustache a twist and start to walk off she would come running out to ast me where I was going with Thomas Aristides' dog.



Whitey let us each put on his underclothes just to see how they felt.

My mother said I would have to clean up the yard pretty soon and when I was going out to the barn to climb out of the manure hole and go and get the bunch I turned over a board with my foot and there was a worm as big as a small snake under it. My grandfather saw it and grabbed it and got a can and a shuvvle and went after some more, and my ant came out and looked at him and sniffed with her nose, and said: "You do not mean to tell me you are going fishing on a raw day like this do you?" and my grandfather said, "No, I do not mean to tell you anything." Then she said, "You will get peunia and die." But he said, "Cheer up, darling, I am not going to die and break your heart."

Then she said that she did not want him to die and be cluttering up the parlor with his coffin for the best part of a week, and she would have to put off getting married while there was mourning in the family. And he said there might as well be mourning in the family as in the family of the man she was going to marry, but he said he was a tuff old bird and he would see that she got married and got out even if he had to put off dying. Then Peanuts whistled through the manure hole and me and Jubilee went.

Whitey's father is rich so that Whitey wears a collar and carries a handkerchief, but he is a regular fella just the same. We went out to the back of the poor house and got nekked and tried the water with our big toes and then dressed again, and Whitey let us each put on his underclothes just to see how they felt. None of us liked them, but he says they are not bad when you are used to them, except when they get twisted and you have to put them on in the dark.

I was telling my mother about it when we was eating supper, and my grandfather said that he got his game leg trying to put on a union suit in the dark. My grandfather is what my father calls one of the noblest ground and lofty liars in captivity. It makes my grandfather proud when my father says that.

Picture a Table Like This For $45.00

Just picture such a high grade table as this one for the low price we quote. Seems impossible, doesn't it? Just a very fortunate purchase on our part permits it. Made throughout of solid oak with a beautiful golden finish. Designed in a massive Mission period, and strongly made to withstand even unusual wear. Top may be extended by the adding of leaves. This table should be in your dining room—at the price we quote there is no reason why you cannot put it there. See it and be convinced.

Built with flat instead of curved walls, so as to reflect sound waves without distortion.

False vibrations are thus eliminated and tones assume unusual musical purity.

A Mirror to Harmony

The most beautiful painting cannot rival the wealth of detail reflected in a perfectly flat mirror. So, with The Cheney, every rich detail of harmony is faithfully reflected by plane-surfaced tone chambers.

Each delicate shading of tones, high, medium and low, is blended with mellow overtones. The Cheney reveals new beauties in all records. The art of old-world furniture designers is also reflected in the craftsmanlike finish of Cheney cabinets.

BUICK

Emblem of Satisfaction

MORE Buicks are in use today than any other automobile with one exception. There is just one reason—Buick fulfills its promises.

But do not decide on this evidence alone. Let us demonstrate with a beautiful new 1921 model. Experience for yourself the physical satisfaction in the comfort, roominess, beauty and refinements of these new models; the mental satisfaction in the absolute Buick dependability.

There's a most satisfactory garage service, too, back of every Buick.

EDEX HELPED ME FROM THE VERY START

To suffer from sickness for a long time and then to get relief in a few weeks is like a pleasant dream, but it was the happy experience of [illegible] Addlespurger, a well-known [illegible] lady, residing at 260 North [illegible] street, who says: "I have been very weak and nervous for months. I had a very poor appetite and was run down. I seldom enjoyed a good night's rest, and felt about all in when it was time to get up. I had no strength or ambition to do anything. I don't know really what my trouble was, but I felt very miserable and indisposed. I started taking Redex several days ago and it has certainly done me a great deal of good. I enjoy my food and am steadily gaining strength. My nervous condition is very much improved and I sleep ever so much better and get up refreshed and able to get around and do things. I am better in every way than I have been in a long time.

"I cheerfully recommend Redex; it is wonderfully good medicine."

Redex can be obtained in Marion at Lower's, Schmidt's and all leading drug stores. It can also be had in Prospect at Osborn & Son and [illegible] Pharmacy; and in Richwood at Kyle's Drug Store.—Adv.

To Prevent Old Age Coming too Soon!

"Toxins (poisons) in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If you wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase your chances for a long life, you should drink plenty of pure water and take a little 'Anuric,'" says the famous Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little "Anuric" from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it more potent than lithia.

CUT THIS OUT

Old English Recipe for Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or 's hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

CENTRAL JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NAME ADOPTED

When School Board Accepts Ellis Remodeling Plans.

BIDS FOR IT ARE TO BE RECEIVED ON APRIL 4

Clerk's Report Places Total Estimate on City School Property at $1,941,050.

Plans and specifications prepared by J. Lewis Ellis, architect, for converting the old Central building into a modern school plant were adopted at an adjourned meeting of the board of education Monday night in the high school building. The president and clerk of the board were authorized to enter into a contract with Mr. Ellis to supervise the work of remodeling the building.

The name of the building was changed to the Central Junior High school building and noon of April 15, set as the time for receiving bids for the work of remodeling. At a previous meeting the board set noon of April 4 for the receipt of bids for the sale of the $70,000 bond issue and noon of April 12 for the receipt of bids for the construction of the new four-room school building on the Linn site on north Main strec.

Estimated at $50,000.

Plans for remodeling the Central Junior High building provide for the removal of the top floor, arranging nine class rooms and a library on the two remaining floors and completing the basement with two manual training rooms, a domestic science room and a modern heating plant. Mr. Ellis estimated that the work will cost $50,000, but stated the bids for the construction may lessen this cost. In the specifications ten alternate proposals for various details of the work have been arranged which may assist in making the cost for the work less.

The motion authorizing the employment of Mr. Ellis as the architect provides that his fee shall not be more than six per cent.

Bills approved by the finance committee were ordered paid. By common consent the Oak Street school was granted the use of the departmental school auditorium for an educational stereopticon lecture in the near future.

School Property Valuation.

An estimate of the value of city school property, presented by Clerk E. T. Smart, placed the total value of all the property at $1,941,050. Buildings are valued at $1,584,000; equipment, $78,550, and land, $278,500.

Total valuation of the various buildings, with their equipment and land, is:

Harding High, $395,000; old high and Central buildings, $283,600; Davids street, $36,200; Forest Lawn $78,000; Glenwood, $129,800; Greenwood, $89,400; Lincoln, $50,400; Mark, $86,600; Oak, $91,600; Oakland Heights, $131,100; Olney $94,500; Pearl, $122,800; Silver, $119,550; State, $85,000; Grand, $145,000, and Main, $2,500.

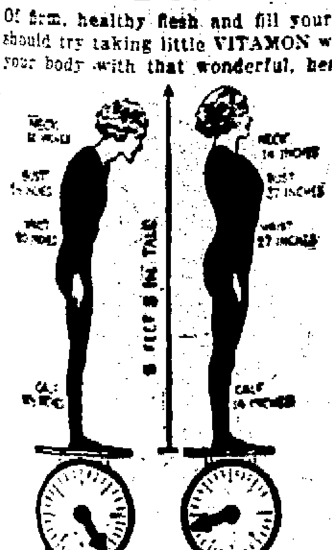
A financial report showed the total receipts for the school year to be $558,362.20, including bond sales of $274,061. The total paid for instruction was placed at $152,205.39, outstanding bonds amount to $729,000 and other forms of debt, $96,000.

Musician Out of Tune

"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Schmidt & Co., and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

To Gain 10 Pounds

Of firm, healthy flesh and fill your body with renewed energy, you should try taking little VITAMON with each meal. VITAMON supplies your body with that wonderful, health-giving nourishment—the vitamines—which is destroyed in the cooking of many everyday foods. If you are thin, underweight, haggard, drawn-looking or catch cold easily, it is probably because you are not getting enough vitamines and you will find it well worth your while to try this simple test: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take VITAMON, two tablets with every meal. Then weight and measure yourself again each week and continue taking VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. It is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. A two weeks' test will surprise you.



IMPORTANT—While the amazing health-value of VITAMON has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anaemia, indigestion, dizziness, sallow skin, poor complexion and a generally weakened, rundown condition, it should not be used by anyone who object to having their weight increased to normal. All good druggists have VITAMON in stock or can quickly procure it for you.

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

Katie's words brought me up standing with a lively realization of an unlooked-for complication in the matter of the dispoiled rooms. Our house no longer belonged to us. The ruined paper and paint of the rooms meant considerable expense in restoring them. I had heard vaguely of the labor conditions and I wondered worriedly if it would be possible to get the repairs done before the day set for our surrender of the house to the new owner.

I had been worse than negligent. I acknowledged to myself, in not telephoning Dicky about the mischief done in the house. That I had not realized the extent of the damage was no excuse, neither was the fact that Mrs. Durkee's excited preparations had kept me busy. It was his right to know at once what had happened. Instead, I had acquiesced in Lillian's domination of the situation.

Miserably I remembered a scathing comment which Dicky had made not long before to the effect that Lillian and I when together "proceeded to run the universe." I quailed a little as I reflected that he was certainly entitled to vicious comment upon this occasion, and that probably he would abate no jot or title of his privilege.

I became conscious of Katie's face watching me curiously. I pulled myself together and answered her casually:

"It may not be as bad as you think, Katie. Clean it as well as you can, and when Mr. Graham comes we will see how much repairing has to be done."

"Shoost vait till Meester Graham see dis," Katie prophesied with an involuntary chuckle. "He go straight oop in air, higher den ever he did in hees air-o-plane."

Of course I made no outward comment upon this speech, but inwardly I echoed the girl's shrewd comment. I foresaw a difficult quarter of an hour for me when Dicky should arrive upon the scene.

"Can you leave this conveniently for a few minutes, Katie?" I asked quietly. "I want to go upstairs with you and show you what has to be done in the rooms there. We shall sleep here tonight, Mr. Graham and I, and we will also have with us Mrs. Underwood and Marion."

"Sure, I coom right away," she answered cheerily, following me to the upper rooms humming a Polish folk song beneath her breath, while I thanked my particular little star for the volatile good-nature of my little maid. What a dilemma I would have faced if I had had to contend with the average sullen domestic helper in this emergency.

During the seconds of our journey upstairs I formulated a plan, vague enough, but the best I could conceive, which I hoped would enable me to keep from Dicky the peculiar features of the wrecked trunk in my own room, the contents of which Lillian was so insistent upon examining before they had been distrubed by other hands. In furtherance of this plan I took Katie into my father's room first.

"You see, Katie," I said indicating the sheet covering the heap of things from my father's emptied trunk. "In every bedroom the robbers pitched everything from the trunks to the floor, and we simply threw sheets over the things to keep them from the dust."

"You vant me feex dem?" Katie's eyes gleamed with interest, and I remembered perhaps her most irritating fault—her propensity for investigating things which she has no business touching.

"Oh, no!" I said decidedly. "I will attend to all that. But you may help me move them now to the corner of the room where they will not be in your way. Get the vacuum cleaner and the waxed mop, and remove the dust from that corner of the room first. Then you can clean the rest at your leisure. I think, perhaps, you would better leave the work downstairs until this afternoon, when I cannot be with you. I can help you for an hour now here, and we can get the rooms ready for tonight. You won't have to prepare any meals today except for you and Jim, for I am going to have luncheon at Mrs. Durkee's, and Mr. Graham and I will dine there tonight."

"All right, I fetch dem queek," she said, and vanished down the stairs while I mentally congratulated myself upon arranging matters in such a fashion that I could lock the bedroom doors when I left the house, and thus prevent Katie's certain meddling with the contents of the trunks. She is too much a child to be able to resist such a temptation, although I knew that she would not appropriate even a pin to her own use.

I ran over my plan carefully. I would hurry with Katie through the cleaning of all the rooms—a regular "lick and a promise" affair—but in my own room I would leave the sheet-covered heap just where it was, as Lillian had requested. Then I would telephone Dicky about the damage done by the marauders, and when he came—

I thought if I kept my head I might be able to show Dicky the rooms upstairs without his paying any special attention to the heap of papers with their queer evidence beneath the sheet in my room.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY'S EASY SHOES.

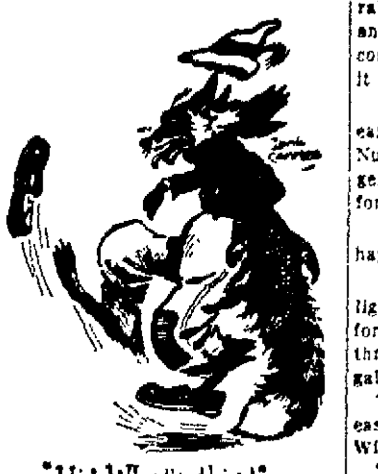
[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"Please have a good, hot supper for me when I come home, Nurse Jane," said Uncle Wiggily to his muskrat lady housekeeper one day as the bunny rabbit gentleman hopped off the front step of his hollow stump bungalow.

"I shall be most happy to," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I'll have hot turnip pancakes for you with carrot maple sugar sauce sprinkled down the middle. I'll have your warm slippers near the fire for you, and an easy chair. But where are you going?"

"To look for an adventure," said Uncle Wiggily. "And they are getting so scarce now that I have to hop a long way from my bungalow to find one. I'll be tired and hungry when I get back."



"Hi! What's this!"

"I'll have everything ready for you," promised the muskrat lady housekeeper. Then Uncle Wiggily hopped away. Nurse Jane was just finishing dusting the cups and saucers when, all of a sudden, a cute little voice said:

"I've come over to spend the day with Uncle Wiggily."

"Why, Baby Bunty!" laughed Nurse Jane, as she saw the tiny rabbit girl. "I'm so glad to see you! But Uncle Wiggily has gone out adventuring. However, you may stay until he comes home."

"All right," said Baby Bunty. "What are those?" she asked, pointing at two things like large Noah's arks beside the warm fireplace.

"Those are Uncle Wiggily's easy shoes," explained Nurse Jane. "I put them there to get warm and he'll slip them on when he comes in tired from adventuring."

"Oh," said Baby Bunty, thoughtful like. "Uncle Wiggily's easy shoes! Sort of extra big slippers, aren't they, Nurse Jane."

"Yes," answered the muskrat lady, "they are." Then she didn't pay much more attention to Baby Bunty, who sat down near the fireplace to amuse herself and wait for Uncle Wiggily.

On and on, over the fields and through the woods hopped the bunny rabbit gentleman, looking this way and that for an adventure, but none could he find. Then, all of a sudden, it began to rain.

"I guess I'll go home, put on my easy shoes and sit by the fire with Nurse Jane," said the bunny rabbit gentleman. "This is not a good day for adventures."

But just you wait and see what happens.

Back to his hollow stump bungalow hopped Uncle Wiggily, and the light and the glow of the lamp—for it was now evening—shining through the windows made the bungalow seem most cozy.

"I shall be glad to put on my easy shoes and rest," thought Uncle Wiggily, as he went in.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" cried jolly Baby Bunty.

"Oh, hello! You here?" asked Mr. Longears in surprise. "That's fine!"

He caught Baby Bunty up in his paws and kissed her. Then he took off his wet coat and went in by the warm fire. Uncle Wiggily was just going to put on his easy shoes, and tell Baby Bunty a Bedtime Story, when, all of a sudden, the front door was pushed open and into the bungalow burst the bad old Fox.

"Oh, ho!" howled the Fox. "You thought you'd get away from me, Uncle Wiggily, but you didn't! What are these?" the Fox asked pointing to the things like Noah's arks.

"My easy shoes," said the bunny. "I as just going to put them on, as my feet are wet, and—"

"Give those easy shoes to me!" growled the Fox. "I'll put them on myself. My feet are wet, too!"

The bad chap pulled off his old shoes, and thrust both feet, as hard as he could, into Uncle Wiggily's warm, dry, easy shoes. And then, all of a sudden, a look of pain came over the face of the Fox and he howled:

"Hi! What's this! Nut shells and ice picks! These easy shoes are full of stickers! Oh, you played a trick on me! You played a trick!" And with a loud howl, shaking the easy shoes off his feet, out ran the Fox.

"What in the world is the matter with my easy shoes?" asked Uncle Wiggily in surprise.

"Oh, I guess I left my dolls in them," laughed Baby Bunty.

"Your dolls!" said the bunny.

"Yes, I brought over my rough corncob doll, and another doll still more sharp and prickly, made from a pine tree cone. I made believe your easy shoes were cradles and I put my stickery dolls to sleep in 'em. See!" And from the big, easy shoes Baby Bunty drew out her corncob and pine cone dolls.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny, as he now put on his easy shoes. "You fooled the Fox all right!" And so Baby Bunty had.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goiter, enlarged glands and wens.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist Carl G. Ungericht can supply you.—Adv.

"SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT"

By JEANIE MAC PHERSON

The intimate life of a woman who thought she knew what love is. Until loving led to hate, and then——

The rest is something never portrayed till now in a motion picture! It is wonderful.

An attraction as different from all that DeMille has done before as his "Why Change Your Wife?" Was different from the first screen drama.

Luxury, beauty, fashion, allurement, as only DeMille knows how. But something more! Ask any one who saw this picture of pictures and they will tell you not to miss it

SNORE IS MOST USELESS THING IN THE WORLD

According to Evangelist Birney at Epworth Church.

The revival is on at Epworth M. E. church and promises to be one of the old fashioned kind about which so much is heard, but of which so little is seen. There was no "snoring" in the church last night while Dr. George H. Birney preached his searching sermon on "The Sleepy Church and Sleepy Christians."

"The church has been sleeping through the centuries," said Dr. Birney, "and has only awakened now and then by the call of some great insistent voice like that of Savonarola, Luther, Wesley, Moody and Sunday. "If the church had kept awake and at its task the World war never could have happened, for long since it would have driven sin back to the pit from whence it came.

"Because the church has slept so much its task remains undone. A snore is the most useless thing in the world, but never so useless as when it is heard in the church of God. If you want to find how many professing Christians in Marion have become professional snorers just count the ones who are not at prayer meeting, Sunday-school or revival services.

"The power of the church depends on its spiritual awakeness. To get some folks to testify or pray you would have to blast them awake with TNT. The kaiser must have gotten his scheme from the devil, for that is the way satan has been winning over the church from the begining."

Dr. Birney then spoke of the gas barrages which the devil uses to make the church insensible to its task, such as destructive criticism, desire for pleasure, the dance, the theater and impure literature. He said: "How can a church breathing the atmosphere of these days for six days of the week be awake on Sunday? How can souls filled with the poison of the world arouse themselves for the great battle against sin? Every Christian must wear his spiritual gas mask constantly at the 'alert' position. I wore mine under my chin ready for instant use for months at a time. I wear the protection of the Holy Spirit in my heart always, so must you."

Dr. Birney spoke this afternoon on "The Holy Spirit" and will preach tonight on "Over the Top into No Man's Land."

Easy For Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

It's such an easy matter nowadays for thin, weak, scrawny people to put on good, healthy, solid flesh and become plump and graceful that one often wonders why there are still so many people who seem to prefer to be "all skin and bone," ungainly and unpleasant to look upon. whoever could discover a remedy that wohever could discover a remedy that would cause the food that one puts into the stomach to turn into good, rich, flesh-making blood instead of going to waste, would also discover how to put healthy muscular flesh onto thin under-nourished people and this has now been accomplished.

If you are thin, under developed, nervous, weak, or lack vigor and vitality, you can secure any good pharmacy at moderate cost a ten days' treatment of EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES, a new combination of flesh producing, muscle building, strength creating elements that is guaranteed to put good, solid, lasting flesh on your body and to make you strong, healthy and vigorous, or money back.

Physicians who have watched the results of the Evans' Triple Phosphates treatment are astonished at its rapid action—often in a month five to ten pounds of desirable weight is gained. Bartlett's Drug Store has agreed to supply readers of this paper with Evans' Triple Phosphates and to guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money returned. —Adv.

THIRTY-TWO ROUNDS OF BOXING THURSDAY

They Will Be Staged at the O. N. G. Amorry.

Tickets are selling fast for the boxing bouts to be staged under the auspices of the American legion at the armory Thursday night. The scale of prices has made it possible for all lovers of the ring sport to see the matches from points of vantage and it will be an opportunity to see some of the best boxers of class in the country at an admission much lower than is paid in the cities.

In all there will be thirty two rounds, the main bout being ten rounds between Alvie Miller, of Lorain, and Johnny McCoy, of Cleveland, featherweights who will meet at 122 pounds. Both have aspirations for the honors held by Johnny Kilbane and are top notchers in their class. They need little introduction to fight fans as they both have records in the ring that are nationally known. It is the first time that boxers of their class have ever appeared before a Marion audience.

The three preliminaries on the card will not be lacking in excitement as boxers who are climbing up the ladder are slated to meet. Two fast local boys, Johnny Geary and "Speed" Norris, will go four rounds as an opener. Young Kist of Pittsburgh, and Tommy O'Boyle, of Cleveland will battle ten rounds at 126 pounds, both being fast and scientific boxers. Louis DeArco, of Cleveland, and Johnny Harcourt, of Akron, both well known fighters, will meet for eight rounds at 120 pounds.

If they are always kept in the house for use in case of an emergency, they may save you many days of serious illness or discomfort. Schmidt's Drug Store or any good druggist can supply you —Adv.

They are Happy and Well

You Should Be the Same

A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.

A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes; but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.

When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.

North Troy, N. Y.—"When I was a young girl I had a severe female trouble. Mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking several bottles I was strong and well. When my daughter got married she was feeling miserable and I recommended your medicine. She is greatly improved in health and has a beautiful baby boy four months old. So you see this letter comes from the third generation and you may use it as you wish."—Mrs. R. M. GREENAWAY, 657 4th Ave., North Troy, N. Y.

Hutchinson, Kan.—"I was about 13 years old when I developed a female weakness. My mother took me to a doctor and I doctored for several months. I was too sick to do anything, was as thin as could be, and my complexion was yellow. Mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it had helped her so much that she got some for me and before I had finished the second bottle I was feeling fine and have been ever since."—Mrs. J. A. STEVENS, 716 E. 9th St., Hutchinson, Kansas.

EVERLASTIC SLATE-SURFACED ROOFING

will save you money because it lasts longer and never needs painting.

It is also the most artistic roofing for your home, barn, garage, or steep-roofed factory. The beautiful red or green coloring of the slate never fades.

It defies wind and weather, is easy to apply, and is low in cost. Sold in rolls of one square each with nails and cement enclosed.

You Need Electric Light!

Before you clean house—put in Electricity. Our price for first-class work is low. Don't contract wiring until we figure with you.

Pay $2.00 Each Week.

We have decided to accept twenty-five more contracts on this basis. We are forced to limit the number—so be one of the first.

Special Proposition on New Work.

We want to figure every new building erected in Marion. A good building contractor wants to give his customer a first-class wiring job. We do first-class work—our price is attractive.

TWO ASSEMBLIES AT HIGH SCHOOL TODAY

Athletics, Debate and the Inauguration Feature.

Two very interesting assemblies were held at the Harding school this morning In the west hall the program began with a short extemporaneous speech by Captain Knachel, who told of the basket-ball victory over Springfield last Friday night, Captain Hinklin, of the Reserves, then gave an account of the game at North Lewisburg. Both urged that the students give the best support possible to the team at the Galion game which will determine the standing of the Marionites in the North Central league race

Coach Burdette gave a talk giving the outline for spring athletics, Tennis tournaments, inter-class baseball, track and spring football will all be used to keep the high school huskies in condition and will afford ample sport for all the students. Following this Mr Larkin, debate coach, made several announcements as to the debate Friday night and said that the teams would need the support of the entire student body.

Miss Abigail Harding, who returned yesterday from her trip to Washington, very splendidly told the story of her experiences in a very modest and pleasing manner.

The meeting was closed by the singing of the school song. In the east hall Superintendent McVay gave an account of his trip to the school superintendents' convention in Atlantic City and likewise the story of inauguration.

ERIE ROUNDHOUSE FORCE TO BE CUT 100 THURSDAY

While Clerical Departments Will All Be Reduced.

J. F. PRENDERGAST IS HOST AT A DINNER

Railway Officials Enroute to Chicago Are Guests—C. & O. Industrial Agent in City.

Announcement was made at the local offices of the Kent division of the Erie this morning that cuts in the working force of all the departments would be made this week in order to comply with the demands of the system to retrench.

One of the biggest cuts will be made at the Erie roundhouse where more than 100 employes will be laid off Thursday, while another reduction in the working force will follow if conditions do not change materially in a short time, it is said. The clerical forces are all to be reduced and in other departments employes will have to be laid off.

J. F. Prendergast was host at a dinner at the Marion clubhouse, Monday evening, to about a dozen railroad officials from Cleveland, Columbus and other cities who were enroute to Chicago to attend the convention of the Railroad Supply Appliance association. Mr. Prendergast also had as guests a number of local men, covers for dinner being placed for about twenty.

The visitors accompanied by Mr. Prendergast, left at midnight for Chicago.

RICE OIL & GAS COMPANY LANDS ON LEGAL ROCKS

Howard A. Stevens Appointed Referee Today.

ASSETS AT $2,680.87; LIABILITIES AT $25

Mrs. Charles W. Smith Awarded Decree of Divorce and Custody of Minor Children.

An application for the dissolution of the Rice Oil & Gas company, a corporation, was filed in the common pleas court this morning. Howard A. Stevens was appointed referee. It was also ordered that all persons opposing the dissolution of the corporation shall appear before the referee in his office June 18. The referee is to make a report to the court.

Charles W. Rice, Frank Rice, Leslie Rice, Bert Cameron, Homer E. Johnson, George L. Moore, C. E. Henney, L. Thomas Bargar, George Krater, Edward Kinner, George L. Krantz, Frank Ulsh, Dennis Tierney, C. B. Emery, G. H. Fosler, B. F. Waples, Charles McMurray, William Holverstott, Roy Holdridge, James A. Walsh, F. J. Murphy, Silas T. Hoyle, L. C. Doppenwirth, John Brigel, Fred Ellery, E. L. Brady and Herman Feidner, stating that they own and represent not less than one-third of the capital stock of the company, asked for the dissolution. Their interests are represented as 799 shares.

It is stated that the capital stock of the corporation is $50,000, divided into $5,000 shares valued at $10 each. The company was organized to produce, market and operate for oil and gas and the corporation has been in existence since April 23, 1918, and there are now outstanding 1,933 shares of stock. It is alleged that the objects of the corporation have wholly failed, have been entirely abandoned and it is entirely impractical to further attempt to accomplish them. The petitioners state they deem it to the best interests of the stockholders that the corporation be dissolved. After receiving the report of the referee, they ask judgment dissolving the corporation and that receiver be appointed.

The assets of the corporation are placed at $2,680.87, including $1,930.87 in the Marion County bank, $250 in Liberty bonds and $500, the estimated value of an oil derrick. The liabilities are placed at $25.

Sale Is Confirmed.

Sale of the premises was confirmed, the deed ordered and distribution of the proceeds approved Monday afternoon in the common pleas court in the foreclosure suit of Edward A. Moon against Gladys Barbee and others.

Wife Gets Decree.

Margaret Smith Monday afternoon in the common pleas court was granted a divorce from Charles W. Smith formerly of Mt. Gilead, on the ground of extreme cruelty and gross neglect. Custody of the minor children was awarded to Mrs. Smith, with right of reasonable visitation on the part of the defendant. The agreement as to an alimony was found by the court to be fair and reasonable and was approved. The plaintiff lives at No. 595 York street.

Brother Against Sister.

An amended petition in the suit of Frederic Trefz against Marie Ernsberger and Harry Ernsberger was filed in the common pleas court this afternoon through J. H. Eymon.

The suit is an action to enjoin the defendants from disposing of certain property in Marion and for an order from the court to require the defendants to transfer the Marion property to him. Trefz alleges the defendant, Marie Ernsberger, acted as his agent for the disposal of real estate in Erie county, Pennsylvania, valued at $5,000. He charges the defendants traded the property for real estate in Marion, took the title in their own name and refused to pay him for the Pennsylvania property. He states that the defendant, Marie Ernsberger, is his sister.

A license to marry was issued today to Clyde V. Davis, Galion, and Mrs. Effie E. Royce, Marion.

Mrs. Clyde Kinney, of east Center street, today left for Columbus, where she was called on account of the death of her grandfather, Henry Shirk, who was found dead Sunday morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Glasco, No. 1,381 Livingston avenue. Mr. Shirk was ninety-two years old last August and had passed the greater part of his life in Union county. INCOME TAX FLAG FALLS AT MIDNIGHT TONIGHT

So, Mr. Citizen, Remember There Is a Penalty.

Have you filled out your income tax blank? If you have not you had better get busy, for at 12 o'clock tonight the curtain will fall and all those who failed to get under the wire will have to pay five dollars and an additional penalty of twenty-five per cent. of the tax. The blanks must be in the hands of the collectors of the department by the hour stated, so that mailing them at a late hour will not exempt the person from the payment of the penalty.

The office of the local income tax collectors, under the Marion County bank, will be open tonight until 12 o'clock. There has been a rush at the office since early this morning and according to the men in charge no excuse will be accepted for persons not filing a report. All married men with an income of $2,000 a year or more and single persons with an income of $1,000 a year or more are required to make returns.

A good hard fall is often the result of trying to stand on one's dignity.
